Artists of the Month—

SVAC Artists

The Art Gallery will host members of Shenandoah Valley Art Center for the months of December and January. Shenandoah Valley Art Center was started in 1986 as a place for local artists to have exhibits, education, and fellowship. Through the years SVAC has grown into a thriving regional art center with more than 200 members annually. SVAC has galleries, a gift shop, classes, and open artist studios at 122 S. Wayne Avenue in Waynesboro. The building is open to the public and visitors are encouraged to visit often, as exhibits change nearly every month.

During the four weeks of Advent, we are called to prepare ourselves for the birth of the Christ-child. This year we will have many opportunities available to celebrate Advent:

Daily Devotionals: Journey into the Light is available for residents to read as a daily reminder of this holy season.

Weekly Devotions: We will wrap up our study The Jewishness of Jesus by Rabbi Evan Moffic. Each week we will start our session with an Advent message using our Advent wreath.

Vespers: On Sundays, and on Christmas Eve, we will have a special Advent worship service offered in the First Floor Activity Room. Join us as we celebrate with special Christmas carols, holy scripture readings and a message from area pastors .
