Ebony Toler

Life Enrichment Coordinator for independent living at the King's Grant campus in Martinsville.

Having been a part of the Sunnyside Communities family for four years, I can honestly say that my work is rewarding. I began as a volunteer at Sunnyside in Harrisonburg assisting in activities and dining, and then served as an administrative intern. Later, I worked as a cook and transitioned to a dining services supervisor role. Now, I am the Life Enrichment Coordinator for independent living at the King's Grant campus in Martinsville.

In college, I knew I wanted to major in Healthcare Administration but I was undecided on my career path. It was only after I started volunteering at Sunnyside as part of a service learning project through James Madison University that I knew senior living was for me. The residents made all the difference in my decision!

Knowing that I have the ability to make a difference in our residents' lives is what motivates me each day. From planning events and watching them come to fruition to seeing our residents happy and benefiting from them – that's gratifying. I especially enjoy interacting with our residents and finding engaging opportunities tailored to their interests. Whether it's planning a fall festival or hosting a training class on all-things social media, I am here to serve our residents. Sometimes, it's simply listening to concerns and working together to find solutions to lighten their burden. It is my goal to make their lives a little easier and a lot more fun!

I truly believe one must be selfless and have a heart of service to work in senior living. Working within Sunnyside Communities has proven to me that if we are true in the way we love our residents, they'll love us right back!
